Alexandre Deulofeu is an extraordinary and totally unknown character.

Born in a village near Girona in the early 20th century, Deulofeu was a lonely scholar with a very odd ambition: he wanted to understand and predict history, to find a mathematical model that would allow him to imagine the future world.

And most surprisingly, Deulofeu did just that. Hence, we explore the life, theories and predictions of Alexandre Deulofeu: a native of Catalonia, a pharmacist by trade, who in the 1950s predicted historic events such as the fall of the USSR and Germany's hegemony in today's Europe.

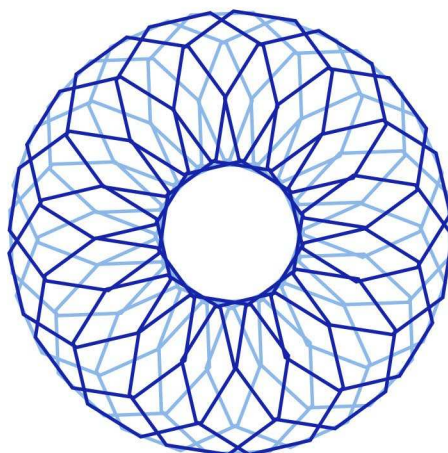

His next prophecy, which he wrote at the height of the Franco era: Catalonia will gain independence in 2029.
